

Name: _____

Date: _____

GENIUSCHALLENGE

SYMBIOSIS

1. _____ is the interaction between organisms in an ecosystem.

2. The relationship in which one organism eats another organism is called _____.

3. What role does competition play in the development of adaptations over time?

4. Ticks, leeches, and mistletoe are examples of _____ because they harm the host they benefit from.

5. Termites are only able to digest wood because of the bacteria in their stomachs. This type of relationship is called _____.

6. Describe commensalism and give an example.

7. _____ are used to model the feeding relationships between living things in an ecosystem.

8. What does an ecologist do?
